

Item Longtext

In addition to the additional article texts from the Microsoft standard, Aproda Documents Automation also supplies article long texts. Long texts can be printed on sales and purchasing documents. Since they are stored as continuous text, it is easier to enter the texts than the Microsoft standard additional texts.

The item long text is also an additional text about the item. The text can be stored as continuous text so that text entry is very simple.

Long texts can also be created for translations. You can use item translations from the Microsoft standard to define the long text for each language (line).

The long text column shows whether a translation exists for the long text.

1.2 Display of long texts in documents

In purchasing and sales lines, you can see whether an item long text exists.

Go to Pages and Tasks
> Item Longtext Export	Tasks
> Item Longtext Import	Tasks

Both actions can be found and executed via the global search.

To export, simply click OK in the export window.
